

Saturday Market

MARKETPLACE • COMMUNITY • CELEBRATION

From Kirsten

Good Morning Saturday Marketers!
Glad you came today! It's your commitment to growing your business that makes each Saturday a success for you.
As we enter the hot summer months, I want to remind you of our extreme heat policy, so here it is:
"Our practice has been, that if you come down and sell, but later begin to suffer ill-effects from the heat and staying would compromise your health, you are permitted to pack up and leave early. Please inform your neighbors and the staff at the information booth of your need to leave and minimize disruption to Market as you make your way out. We understand that the threshold for heat intolerance isn't the same for everyone. As a business owner, it is your right and responsibility to protect yourself and employees from harm. The important thing is that you came down to make a Market."
It is important that you let the Information Booth know that you are leaving before you start packing up. Also, informing your neighbors helps them understand that you aren't feeling well. Leaving early is against our rules unless it is for a valid reason.
A lot of members will be selling at the Oregon Country Fair next weekend. For those of you that aren't, this is a great weekend to be at the Saturday Market as you are likely to get a good booth space and historically, the shoppers that come spend money.
Lastly, remember that in a world where you can be anything...be kind.

Happy Selling!
Kirsten

M.V.P. Message

Member. Volunteer. Partner.

How is the Eugene Saturday Market different from other craft shows you might sell at this summer? One of the biggest differences is the Market is a membership organization. That means to sell here you "belong". When you pay your membership you begin the belonging. But, it doesn't stop there. Twice a year, you are asked to vote for Board members. By doing so, we delegate to them the right and obligation to make the best decisions for the organization in an open, and fair process.

Voting for board members isn't enough, either. Each week, you are asked to read the newsletter to stay current on Market news, on committee work, and on promotions. Each newsletter is an invitation to attend and participate in committee meetings, an invitation to help distribute posters and guidebooks and learn of other ways to help promote the Market. There are lots of ways to pitch in. Read all about it each week in the newsletter.

When you become a member of the Saturday Market, you are also asked to agree to following the Market guidelines, from Maker is the Seller, to staying open until 5 PM...(oh, and don't park early!) Sure, at other Fairs, you are asked to follow rules, but at Market, following the rules isn't enough. At Market, you are invited to help make the rules! Being a member of a membership organization means you are expected to help it thrive. The Market needs you to volunteer. Please consider volunteering on committees and eventually serving on the Board, because you are a Market member, and you belong here.

Signed,
Another Proud Market Member!

If you would like to submit an article for the M.V.P. Message column, please submit it via email to info@eugenesaturdaymarket.org by noon each Wednesday.

Help Promote The Market and Your Business

Our marketing department, also known as Vanessa, is always looking for Marketeers willing to appear in various ads and promotional pieces. These include print ads in the Register Guard and the Eugene Weekly, Facebook, Twitter and Instagram posts. Plus, there's the Beautiful Booth, and the New Products and Artisans page on the website. She likes to get photos of both Marketeers and products. If you are interested, please flag her down as she's wandering the Market or drop a line to vanessaroy@eugenesaturdaymarket.org. Feel free to send in your professional product shots or a link to a Dropbox for high resolution images.

She would also appreciate being notified if you do not want your products or your photo to appear online at all. Artists can feel free to protect their original artwork. Thanks!

If you've asked before and she hasn't gotten to you, please ask again. Persistence is appreciated and rewarded.
