The Market will provide some snacks and drinks to fill in the potluck. Please bring the family and enjoy some time with your Market family.

Thought for the day... "My wish for you is that you continue. Continue to be who and how you are, to astonish a mean world with your acts of kindness. Continue to allow humor to lighten the burden of your tender heart." – Maya Angelou

Happy Selling!
Kirsten

How does an old broken-down rock 'n roll vendor who peddles peaceful tiny plants and Zen words interrupt a heated Board meeting? I'll tell you. You sing with heavy rhythm!

I don't remember what the dispute was, as I've been with Saturday Market for 20 years, and got involved with Standards and the Board about mid-way, so there's been many many issues, people, and situations. But I remember this one Board meeting where there was a hot issue being debated. Tensions and disputes were running high, and all I could think of to try to help break the tension, was to sing a surprise song!

What gave me that idea? Well, I've always been a singer, went to high school with Alice Cooper, dated the drummer, sang my way through college, married the stand-up bass player in a band I sang for, sang with Mama Cass's brother once in DC, and sang in other groups all through the years. Music therapy, or "Music Maitri" became one of my Buddhist creations while teaching kids, (it means "Making friends with oneself through music."). Now, I whistle where ever I am, and sing with Sorormundi.

Well, back to that hot Board meeting. The room was full of tension, but one by one people spoke their truths in the standing-room-only small space. I raised my hand and got on the list to have a turn to speak. My turn would be after just two more speakers, but I didn't know what I was going to say. I really had no new information or insights to offer, but I just couldn't let all the raw feelings go on without doing something to try to calm or neutralize the atmosphere so cooler heads might prevail.

Here's what I did. When it was my turn I stepped over to the doorway and started playing the hollow wall like a drum for my accompaniment. Then I sang "WE CAN WORK IT OUT" and emphasized the part "Life is very short and there's no time-im-im-im for fussing and fighting my friends." I guess the wall drumming and the Beatles song did change the climate in the room. At least enough for everyone to breathe again and laugh. So to me, this remains one my best performances of my whole life!

See you at HM,
