From the Office

Good morning everyone! We hope that you are all doing your best to beat the heat. Here are some quick updates from the office side of life:

Visa Checks-

All of the processed Visa checks from the office have been mailed out. Also, all of the checks from the 7/16 market have been processed. If you have not received your check from 7/2-7/23, please stop by the Info Booth or call the office at your earliest convenience. Thank you all again for your patience as we catch up on entering points and processing checks.

Envelopes-

While processing recent markets, we have noticed a few too many envelopes without names. Please make sure that your envelope has your legal name, the date, and your booth number. As with every market day, we will be collecting envelopes in the Info Booth until 4:25pm. Missed us? No worries, just pop by the office ASAP or bring your envelope by next Saturday. Thanks!

Say Hi to Community TV!

Today and next week, Community Television of Lane County will be at the market. They will be set up in our Non-Profit space over by the stage and International Food Court. Feel free to stop by and give a shout-out to live TV, or say hi while they walk around the market. They will have very noticeable CTV shirts and hats, so if you do not want to be filmed just let them know. You can find out more about CTV of Lane County here: www.ctv29.org/index.html

We Appreciate You!

Thanks again so much for everyone’s understanding and patience during this time. We appreciate you, and if you are interested in volunteering or you have any questions for us, feel free to call or email the office.

Happy Selling!

Sustainability Corner

This week we continue looking at the bigger picture of sustainability by sharing what researchers from Cambridge and Delft Universities concluded as the two levels of sustainable business models. The first level consists of three macro areas: technological, social and organizational concepts. They make the point that sustainability is not only technology driven but also can and does happen because of personal, social and group dynamics.

They define the second level as eight different archetypes. The first three archetypes are technological: maximizing material and energy efficiency, creating value from waste and substituting with renewables.

The next three archetypes are social: delivering functionality rather than ownership, adopting a stewardship role and encouraging efficiency. Examples of these include: low carbon manufacturing solutions, reusing, recycling and remanufacturing, and solar/wind energy innovations.

The last two archetypes are organizational. Repurposing for society and the environment includes: not-for-profit, hybrid businesses, alternative ownership (cooperatives and collectives), social and biodiversity regeneration initiatives, localization and home based working.

Developing scale up solutions includes: collaborative approaches, incubator and entrepreneur support models and crowd sourcing/funding.

The researchers also found that technological aspects are often associated with particular social and organizational aspects. For example, creating value from waste, combined with empathic design and creative thinking, can be a powerful change agent.

A lot of this information might not pertain to your specific business. However, I think it’s important to know where we are in the bigger picture so that as individuals and also as a larger group (our market community) we can be more clear as to the best path forward.

From Your Board of Directors

We are pleased to share with you that we have entered the final interview stage for a new General Manager. The GM application has closed, and next week the remaining candidates will be interviewed by your Board of Directors. We are hoping to share more news with you next week.

Furthermore, if anyone is interested in volunteering during this transitional phase, please feel free to reach out to Anna Lawrence or info@eugenesaturdaymarket.org

We sincerely appreciate everyone’s patience and support during this time. As always you can send us letters via email to info@eugenesaturdaymarket.org or stop by and talk to us at our booths.

Best,
Shannon Lee-Hutson, Board Chair
Nome May, Vice-Chair

The next Board of Directors Meeting is Wednesday, August 3rd @ 5:30 PM
A Zoom link to this meeting is available by request, please email info@eugenesaturdaymarket.org

Holiday Market Updates

As you can guess, with short staff Holiday Market booking is going to be a bit different this year. We are greatly appreciative of all of you who have been patiently waiting for cards and the application to open.

Holiday Market Application Cards were sent out earlier this week and should be in your mailboxes soon (if you haven’t gotten them already)! The online application will open sometime today, Saturday July 30th.

If you are a Booth Holder of Record your application will be due by August 20th. If you are not a Booth Holder of Record, your application will be due on September 15th.

These dates were pushed back one month from the original proposed dates detailed in the annual work plan for 2022. As a member you are free to attend any meetings, in the office or by Zoom, and/or write letters to the Holiday Market Committee.

The next Holiday Market Committee Meeting is Wednesday, August 1st @ 2:00-4:00PM
A Zoom link to this meeting is available by request, please email info@eugenesaturdaymarket.org

Heat Tips with Renee

It is very very hot today. Honestly it’s days like today that make me miss (and not miss) my hometown of Las Vegas, NV. 99°F in the PNW feels pretty cool compared to 120°F in the desert, but there are a lot of things you can do to better prepare for the heat.

1. Bring lots of cool water. If possible try and freeze a half way filled up water bottle overnight, and then fill up with water before you head out. ABDW - Always Be Drinking Water.
2. A wet bandana or cloth can do wonders, as can a fan and umbrella.
3. Don’t forget the sunglasses, sunscreen, and/or an umbrella. Of water, and bring some coverage (a hat, northwest. Please be sure to drink LOTS of water, and bring some coverage (a hat, sunscreen, and sunglasses, and/or an umbrella). A fan or mister may not be a bad idea either.

Weather

Today is expected to be very hot, but there may be some clouds in the morning! The high today is 99°F with a low of 62°F. A wind of 4mph is expected from the North northwest. Please be sure to drink LOTS of water, and bring some coverage (a hat, sunscreen, sunglasses, and/or an umbrella). A fan or mister may not be a bad idea either.

Local Events

August 5-12 - Visual Arts Week
August 7 - Eugene Pagan Pride
August 11-14 - Scandinavian Festival
August 12 - Slug Queen Coronation
August 13 - Eus/Springfield Pride Festival
August 17-18 - Eugene Food Truck Fest

If you don’t see your birthday, please let us know.
