From the Office

Hello everyone. First we want to say thank you to all of the amazing volunteers that have helped out over these last two weeks. As we stated in last week's newsletter, if you are interested in volunteering please send an email to [info@eugen Saturdaymarket.org](mailto:info@eugen Saturdaymarket.org) with the subject line of "Interested Volunteer."

We also want to say thanks to all of our members for being patient and kind. Sonia and Renee are working hard in the office, but we want to remind you that you can always reach out if you have any comments or concerns. Also, if you have time we would greatly appreciate that you double check that all the information in your member profile is up-to-date.

This Friday, July 9th, the office will be closed in order to work the Saturday Market Booth at Oregon Country Fair. So if you'll be there feel free to stop by booth number X09 and say hi!

As a reminder we will be having a lot of tourists this month, which is great for market, but not so great for our immune systems. We recommend that everyone takes precautions against COVID-19 and other illnesses by wearing a mask, bringing hand sanitizer, and doing a daily symptom check.

Thank You and Happy Selling!
Renee and Sonia

Sustainability Corner

This week I want to share with you the Six Factors of Sustainability. According to www.greenmatters.com, the six factors of sustainability are: climate change, environment, people, ethics, innovation and technology.

Climate change is the gradual warming of the earth's atmosphere due to the build up of greenhouse gases emitted when we burn fossil fuels. We are already experiencing these effects in the Willamette Valley, remember last year's heat wave and the fires we have every summer? Shifting our use to renewable energy sources can make a positive difference. Our actions also need to preserve our environment, practicing sustainable methods for gathering our natural resources. Focus more on conserving than on consuming!

People and ethics are two more factors of sustainability. As human beings we have the most influence and, therefore, the most responsibility as stewards of our planet. We need to be more accountable and treat the planet and all of its living things with respect and gratitude. Eating a more sustainable diet and organic farming are examples of ethical sustainability.

Innovation and technology are keys to future sustainability. Innovations in socioeconomics and philosophy can help us change the way we look at the world, helping to create new solutions. Many countries are beginning to use new renewable technologies, replacing polluting methods of energy production. Also, technological advances in agriculture are helping to use less resources when growing crops.

According to www.sustainablefriends.com, the definition of sustainable development is "Development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs." So, the ultimate goal as individuals and businesses is to meet our needs without causing damage to our environment or depleting resources we can't renew. Imagine a world in which we were all striving for this!
