Calef/Tucker Wedding

Jenni Calef and Steven Tucker will be renewing their wedding vows on the Saturday Market stage today, September 14, 2024 at Noon. Please join us.

Did You Know...

- In the U.S., there is no law or religion that dictates that the bride must take the groom's last name. However, approx. 70% of brides change their last name.
- The phrase "Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue" symbolizes continuity, optimism for the future, borrowed happiness & fidelity.
- Las Vegas is the top wedding destination with over 100,000 weddings a year, followed by Hawaii at 25,000.
- Wedding rings are placed on the third finger of the left hand because ancient Egyptians believed the vein in that hand (known as the "vein of love") ran directly to the heart.

Holiday Market Work Tasks

We are getting closer to our Holiday Market 2024 Season. There will be various work tasks to choose from:

- Placard Placement
- Security / Watchfulness
- Closing Sweep
- Set-Up
- Take Down
- Posters

The Poster Work Task is available now! If you choose this task, you will be given 12 Holiday Market posters to place around town. You must take note and/or take a photo of where the poster is placed. Once all your posters are up, please email the information to:

info@eugenesaturdaymarket.org

Posters can be picked up at the office or at the Info Booth. We will let you know when the other tasks are available to sign up for. If you have any questions, please contact us at the office.

3 Steps for Sustainability as Artisans

I love hearing how someone appreciates my use of repurposed materials in my art. We are so fortunate to be surrounded by people that care about these things and even more fortunate to share steps for sustainability with people that are just beginning to take them.

Here are 3 steps for sustainability we can choose as artisans:

Step 1. Are there any materials used in making your art/product that have more earth-friendly options? If yes, think about switching. These options can be more expensive because they often include the environmental cost. If you have to charge more for the finished product, then you can educate your customers about your choices as an artist. Many times, people won't have a problem paying more if they hear this perspective.

Step 2. Where we source our materials can also make a positive difference. Buying or trading in our own communities can translate into a smaller carbon footprint. I know it is hard passing up the low prices and quick delivery of Amazon, so I do allow myself to purchase a few items online. However, it doesn't have to be our automatic "go to" store. Also, try supporting independent businesses over big box stores whenever possible.

Step 3. Try making something out of repurposed materials. Many of us have mastered this already in our art, and now it's our job to inspire others! I make flower domes using repurposed jars, and sometimes the flowers break when I am arranging them. I then use these broken flower parts in mini domes, reducing my waste. Is there something you can make out of a by product of your process?

Are there specific recycled /

Superhero Capes & Masks Business for Sale

I am selling all my things to make superhero capes and masks. I am also selling the stuff to make flax-seed bags that go in the microwave and freezer. I have lots of patterns. I have three bolts of felt blue, grey and black. A big bag of flaxseed, a big bag of lavender and material for the bags. I am willing to teach and help you how to make everything.

I'm asking $200.00 for all of it or make me an offer. Kathy Harris (541-221-4189) or email me at togetherwecan74@yahoo.com

Eggs & Cucumbers Sale

I am having a happy hen egg sale on 9/14/24, $5 dozen. Plus, I also have cucumbers available.

Look for me on the Fountain Block or ask at the Info Booth.
